WEED CAPITAL

1. Introduction

In present days, hemp and cannabis have become more prevalent in medical field. The use of CBD (Cannabidiol) and THC (Tetrahydrocannabinol), for instance, have proved to be beneficial for human body's evidenced by numerous certified researches at national levels. Since weed freedom has been globally received, including Thailand, some countries have legalized the use of cannabis under certain regulations of each country.

Weed Capital team has seen this opportunity and is in development of Weed Capital Platform, in which hemp and cannabis will no longer be viewed as narcotic, or have their access limited by technology, and trading in open markets will allow both cultivator and customer to access markets with higher quality and standard. At the same time this will also open startup opportunities to companies from SME to Corporation. Common people will be able to invest more easily with distribution and certification from the platform. This document will present form and purpose for developing this platform. 2.1 Marketplace Business Case

PROJECT NAME: WEED CAPITAL MARKETPLACE

Executive Summary:

Despite hemp and cannabis being given freedom to trade, it could be difficult to ensure that the quality of the product matches their description or if the transaction could be done only with Fiat currency or not. As for the marketplace, we are able to create solutions and offer convenience to those who are interested in the world of hemp and cannabis products. As well as building knowledge and understanding about usage of hemp and cannabis products.

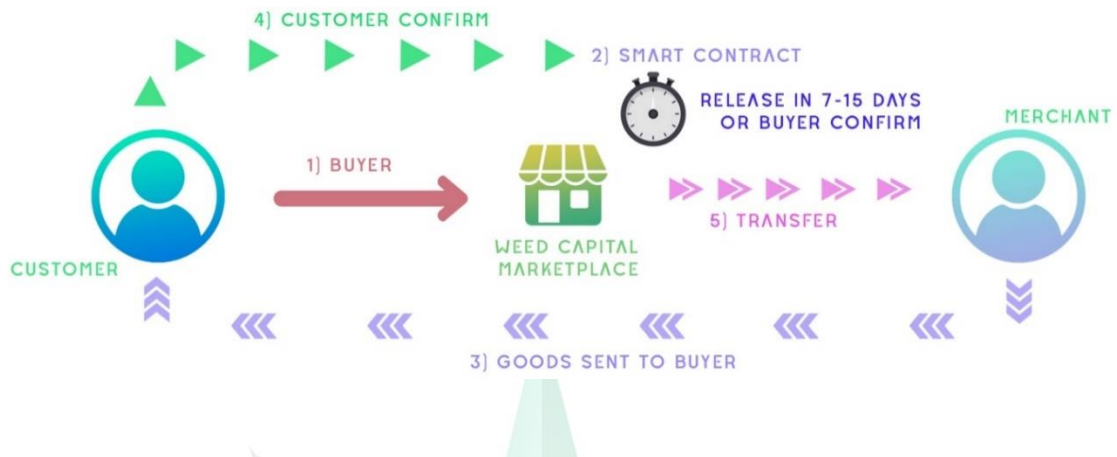

Currently, hemp and cannabis products trading are being done through Facebook pages or dealers in Lazada, Shopee, and Inwshop which leads to the hemp and cannabis products having both good and bad qualities. Aside from products with varied qualities, the lack of knowledge about hemp and cannabis species could lead to further problems. Trading of hemp and cannabis products might be restricted within regions of each countries due to regulations and access to the products can be limited.

Why Weed Capital Marketplace ?

We understand that currently there are many platforms that aim to educate about hemp and cannabis but are not able to fully utilize marketplaces due to regulations in different countries. Moreover, now that hemp and cannabis have been legalized as industrial crop in Thailand, Weed Capital Marketplace has been developed to meet the increasing demands. Trading will be done in combination of both Offchain and Onchain, as well as Token ecosystem. Such token can be used with official partners of Weed Capital.

2.3 Initial Weed Offering Business Case

PROJECT NAME: WEED CAPITAL IWO Platform

Problem:

Since hemp and cannabis farming has high initial cost, and hemp and weed users might need more trustworthy and higher quality products. It would be more effective if the users can order such products in advance by depositing cultivation with experts and distribute profit as the desired product via Blockchain and Smartfarm, as well as cultivating with farms certified by experts in cannabis (Certified). No matter where the user is in the world, they can access and purchase customizable products in advance with Cryptocurrency using Blockchain technology, allowing for more trustworthy and transparent investments.
